Pennsylvania Civil War Trails Discovery Weekend: October 19-21, 2007

Walk in the footsteps of the soldiers who forged a stronger nation.

The American Civil War was a defining event in our nation's history, a tragic struggle of brother against brother that threatened to dissolve a democratic nation. The fields, forests, and towns of Pennsylvania stood witness to some of the most pivotal battles of the Civil War.

We invite you to discover these hallowed grounds during this Civil War Discovery Weekend in Franklin County from October 19-21, 2007.

Step back into the past and discover the Civil War where it happened in the heart of the Cumberland Valley. Experience the haunting beauty of Pennsylvania's countryside. Special events and guided tours will bring the history of the Civil War to life. All Discovery Weekend events take place throughout Franklin County, so you can explore its rich history and charming small towns. Choose from a variety of lodging and dining options and design a Discovery Weekend Getaway to fit your style.

This Discovery Weekend Package promotion is $125 for two people (or $75 per person) and includes:

- Dessert Reception and Panel Discussion of abolitionist John Brown
- Breakfast and Walking Tour of Greencastle and visit to Allison-Antrim Museum
- Walking Tour of Civil War Sites in Chambersburg—Living History Meeting between Robert E. Lee portrayed by Al Stone and A.P. Hill portrayed by Pat Falci
- Civil War Evening with music, epicurean meal, and a presidential discussion between Abraham Lincoln and James Buchanan
- Bus Tour of Civil War Sites in Franklin County beginning in Chambersburg with stops in Shippensburg, Mont Alto, Waynesboro, Greencastle, and Mercersburg
